STATE SENATE PASSES SNYDER "DRY" MEASURE

FOUR ARRESTED ARE CHARGED WITH HOLD UP OF BANK IN OHIO

Newville, O., Mar. 14.—Four men were arrested by Sheriff Ed Lucas and a posse of deputies at Newville today in connection with the hold-up of the People's State Bank at Mt. Pleasant, February 4. The men, who gave their names as James Rago, Joe Pegolina, Lewis Alcom and Carl Faring, were lodged in the county jail here charged with being accomplices in the robbery. The men were arrested as they were about to flee the town with several cases filled with guns, ammunition and money.

FRENCH SEIZE COAL AT RUHR MINES FOR THE FIRST TIME

Duisdorf, Mar. 14.—The first seizure of coal direct from the mines by the French in the Ruhr was accomplished today, a total of 350 tons being taken. French reports confirm the seizure and a state of siege at Duis where anyone found guilty of carrying arms will be immediately court-martialed. The officials are to be shot to death upon a Frenchman. Washington, D. C., Mar. 14.—France is drawing up regulations to avoid the inconvenience which foreign business has encountered because of the occupation of the Ruhr and the ten per cent ad valorem tax levied by the French, the French embassy here was officially advised by the Paris government.

Soviet Russia Watches Reports Of Illness Of Rus Supreme Dictator

Moscow, March 14.—All Soviet Russia waits anxiously each day the official bulletin that tells of the condition of Premier Nikolai Lenin, who has suffered a serious relapse and is partly paralyzed. The Dictator fought for over a year, at an extremely sick man, whose valued counsel was sought only on the most important matters of State, has been growing weaker since the first of December 1922, an official communication stated.

"BABE RUTH BEING SUED FOR $50,000"

New York, March 13.—George Herman "Babe" Ruth has been made defendant in a suit for $50,000 brought by attorney for Miss Dolores Dixon, who charges that the baseball player assaulted her at various times last summer, Ruth's attorney declared.

The attorney, Hyman Bushnell, said Ruth declared he was being black mailed and in a telegram from New Orleans signed by himself and Mrs. Ruth today said he would not pay a cent, but "would fight the charges to the limit."

BRITAIN EXPECTED TOMORROW TO MAKE A $400,000,000 PAYMENT TO THE U. S. ON REPAYMENT OF WAR DEBT TO AMERICA

Washington, D. C., Mar. 14.—Great Britain tomorrow is expected by Treasury officials to make the first payment on her war debt to the United States in accordance with the provisions made by the Debt Funding Commission.

WOMEN'S CLUB IS MAKING PROGRESS ON STREET SIGNS

Over fifty members of the Woman's Club were present at a meeting held last night at the home of Mrs. John Gearhart. Many topics of interest and importance were discussed. The Civic Committee was authorized to purchase the street signs for which they have been raising money during the winter and by Clean-Up Week the club hopes to have every corner in Clearfield neatly and clearly marked.

Mrs. Vandling, the legislative chairman, spoke of the measures which had been before the recent sessions in Harrisburg which were of interest to women. The point was made that the Federation of Women's Clubs now has a chairman in the Capitol whose duty it is to report on proposed legislation of importance to the club and urge them to get upon such matters so that the women of the state may to a greater extent affect its laws. The committee of the club auxiliary to the public health nurses reported the making of a number of garments and surgical dressings for emergencies. Mrs. Orsitt asked for assistance from the women in making hospital gowns. It was announced that Mrs. Boyd Thorne has been appointed as additional member from the club to serve with Mrs. Liveright on the Board of Health.

The club heartily endorsed the project on foot for a county library recently brought before the Rotary Club by Miss MacDonald of the state library and a committee will be named by the president to represent the club in this matter. Professor Zerkow, the speaker of the evening, presented various phases of the educational program of Pennsylvania and showed how these affected our own schools. He gave statistics of our schools which show a remarkable growth in numbers and efficiency in the past ten years and spoke of the great problems arising in the effort to keep up with this growth. Upon adjournment of the meeting a social hour followed, sandwiches and coffee being served by the entertainment committee.

ARMED GUARDS ARE PROTECTING STATE WITNESSES AT GARY

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 14.—A large force of armed government agents took up position in the Federal building here today to protect government witnesses appearing in the prosecution of about seventy-five persons under indictment for conspiracy to violate the Eighteenth Amendment. This drastic action was taken because of the assassination on Monday at Gary of Gasparri Monti, a government witness.

Presidential Booms And Rumors Broadcast By Miami's Balm Breezes

Miami, Fla., March 14.—Miami's balmy breezes swept broadcast Presidential booms and rumors as President Harding's house boat came to anchor today. James E. Cox, Democratic nominee of 1920 refused to deny that Cox will again be a candidate in 1924. Wm. Jennings Bryan is due here tomorrow and is expected to call upon Mr. Harding. Waiting on the dock for the President were Joe Keating of Iowa and James Mulvaney of Kansas. Renubli-cana. The atmosphere was redolent of political possibilities and presidential ambitions for 1924.

FORMER OFFICIAL VETERANS' BUREAU BELIEVED SUICIDE

Washington, Mar. 14.—Charles F. Cramer, general council of the Veterans Bureau until a few weeks ago, was found dead in his home here today.

Police believe he committed suicide. A bullet wound was found in his head and a revolver was in his room. Cramer, who was severely criticized by American Legion officials, resigned from the bureau during the shake-up of that office, caused by the action of the Senate ordering a complete investigation of charges that the veterans relief was being badly administered. Cramer's chauffeur heard a shot in the Cramer home early today. He told the police, who found the body attired in night clothes.

"BLACKMAIL," SAYS BABE RUTH, TALKING OF GIRL'S CHARGES

New Orleans, La., March 14.—"The whole thing is a downright blackmail," Babe Ruth, football star declared angrily today when informed he had been named defendant in a suit by Miss Dolores Dixon, New York, alleging he had attacked her. "I don't know Miss Dixon and to my knowledge I have never seen her home run king said. Ruth, who is here with the New York Giants for spring training was indignant. "I received a notice of this suit while in Hot Springs. This was the first intimation I had that such an action had been started," Ruth stated.

STATE COLLEGE HAS 12,000 "SHARE HOLDERS"

State College, Pa., March 14.—With the announcement today that the Pennsylvania State College emergency building fund campaign had reached a total of $1,120,000 it was learned that over twelve thousand people had contributed by pledge to the fund. College officials declare this large number of contributors to be worthy indication of the need held by the people of the state for their college and its growth of service. Of this unusually large number of contributors over 10,000 are residents of the state. More than half of them are not affiliated in any way with the college other than through the friendly attitude they hold and a desire to see the institution take its place among the leading land grant colleges of the country. The college regards these campaign contributors as "shareholders" in its development plant. Alumni, present and former students make up almost half of the total contributors thus far. Public school teachers and post-graduate growers lead other groups with approximately 1700 and 1400 contributors, respectively.

WILLIAM R. SHIMEL

William R. Shimel died Friday afternoon, March 9, 1923, at 5:15 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lansberry on Morrill street after an illness of about two weeks due to old age. He was born Dec. 4, 1833, in Luzerne Co. and was 89 years of age at the time of his death in his 90th year. He was a good Christian man and had a large circle of friends. He is survived by one brother, Philip Shimel, of Philadelphia, and four children: J. W. Shimel, Mrs. I. O. English, Mrs. H. W. Morrison, Mrs. Joseph Lansberry and J. S. Shimel, of Clearfield; Mrs. Samuel Barto, of Hawk Run; Mrs. A. H. Hinkle, Mill City, Oregon; W. H. Shimel, of Youngstown, Ohio; Mrs. Hattie Eldens of Jamestown, N. Y.; and Mrs. A. C. Liddick, of Krebs and twenty-nine grand children and a number of great grand children. The funeral services were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Lansberry on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Hauser of the Lutheran church conducted the services. He was buried at Summit Hill.

OUTSIDE POWER SECRETLY CARRYING ON RUHR PEACE NEGOTIATIONS ON BASIS OF NEW GERMAN REPARATIONS

Berlin, Mar. 14.—An outside power is secretly interceding in the Ruhr dispute trying to induce Germany to make a new reparation offer, based upon withdrawal of the French troops, it was learned today. The secret parties that the Cuno government has had out for some time have not been successful but now is hopeful that broader gauge feelers may be fruitful, especially in view of the reported assistance of an outside power.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEMORIAL TO EX-JUDGE FRIDAY

The memorial meeting of the Clearfield County Bar Association, to do honor to the memory of the late Judge Allison O. Smith, will be held in the Court Room at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The meeting will be open to the general public and all friends of our late distinguished townsman are invited to be present. In addition to the memorial prepared by the committee on resolutions, eulogistic addresses will be delivered by individual members of the bar.

LEN SMALL CASE IS REVIVED ON CHARGES OF JURY "FIXING"

Waukegan, Ill., Mar. 14.—Evidence gathered in an investigation of alleged tampering with jurors in the Governor Len Small case was prepared for presentation to the Grand Jury today. The Governor was accused of misappropriation of large sums of state funds. A. B. Smith, prosecutor of Lake County, in a secret investigation covering a period of two months has questioned scores of members of the venire summoned to the Small trial. The probe was launched when a Chicago labor leader declared that a bribe was paid $50,000 to "fix" the jury.

PENN STATE QUINTET MAKES GREAT RECORD

State College, Pa., March 14.—Averaging just a fraction less than 40 points per game, the Penn State age team has just closed one of the greatest seasons in history and will rank as one of the greatest scoring machines in the East. Thirteen victories out of fourteen starts were registered by Coach B. M. Hermann's passers, the only defeat coming at the hands of Cornell by a two-point margin. In fourteen games, the Nittany Lions scored a total of 557 points while opposing teams registered but 302, or an average of 21 per game. Johnnie Reed, the sensational forward, gathered in a grand total of 229 counters in 13 games, an average of almost 18 points per game so that he alone almost equaled the total of opposing teams. Reed's record is all the more remarkable because he missed the opening game of the season and was taken out of a number of others in order to give substitutes a chance. Gerhardt, the new forward uncovered this season, led the team in scoring from the floor with 51 baskets, while Captain Koehler was next with 50. Reed made 48, but was in one less game than the others or he might have led in field goals as well as in total points. During the season, Reed caged 133 out of 193 foul tries. Shair, center, made 30 field goals, while Loeffler registered 15. Koehler and Shair are lost by graduating this spring.

REEDSVILLE PLAY PARTY

The Reedsville Community Service Committee is planning its regular monthly play party for Friday evening, March 16, at the Hose House as usual. All who attend these neighborhood parties know what pleasant affairs they are and that the entertainment is welcome. No further advertisement is necessary.

WORKMAN'S STORES TO OPEN UP-TO-DATE MEAT EMPORIUM

Manager Thurston of the Workman's Cash Grocery has closed a deal with Davey Thorne Johnson whereby he takes over the corner room in the Johnson Building, now occupied by Johnson's Billiard Room. It is the purpose of Manager Thurston to proceed at once to convert the room into an up-to-date, spick and span sanitary meat market. To this end a crew of workmen will be engaged in remodeling the room just as soon as the basement, which has been converted and fixed up for it, can be put in shape for a billiard room, it being the intention of G. Warner Johnson to place his pool room in the basement of the building. With the remodeling of the room archways will be cut in the walls between this room and the grocery department, of the Workman's Store, which occupies the other rooms in the Johnson building. The equipment of the new meat market will be complete to the last detail and is expected to cost no less than ten thousand dollars and will include a refrigerating plant, sanitary glass cases, etc.

HERE'S A MODEL TOWN; NESCOPECK GETS THE MEDAL

Nescopack, Pa., March 14. (United Press)—Nescopack is an unusual town. The 1600 population does not include a single foreign born resident. Neither the borough nor the school district has either bonds or temporary loans outstanding and have generous cash balances. There are no licensed saloons and the town supports five churches. Motorists remark on the good repair of the streets and nearly everyone is lined with shade trees. The population is so law abiding that no policeman is required and not a case from the borough has come up in courts for six months. The deposits in the new bank are among the highest in percentage of population of any town in the state. But don't move too quickly; there is not a house for rent or sale.

WIND CARRIED BARN 160 FEET

While we had merely a rain storm here in Philipsburg early Monday morning, it was a rain and wind storm of cyclonic proportions out in Rich township, where the lightning flashed and the thunder made window panes shake. Apparently the fury of the storm centered at St. Thompson's farm, where the wind lifted a 20 by 60 feet frame building from its foundation and carried it a distance of 160 feet. The building contained a reaper and other heavy farm machinery. The damage done was very slight, the entire building having been lifted and carried along without being twisted out of shape or having its contents much disturbed. (Philipsburg Journal.)

WILL REMODEL OFFICES

The Bell Telephone Company has awarded contract Grant Butler the contractor for enlarging and remodeling their office building on Locust street. The work will be commenced at once.

BANK SOLICITOR HERE

George Bathurst, of Harrisburg, is in Clearfield soliciting for the railroad men's co-operative bank, which will be started at the capital city very shortly.

CHILD DIES FROM EATING DYSPEPSIA TABLETS IN HOME

Punkatowney, March 13.—Rose-marie Chappel, 2-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Chappel, of Second avenue, died in the Adrian hospital at 4 o'clock this morning as the result of having eaten some dyspepsia tablets containing a 60th grain of strychnine Monday afternoon. The medicine was kept in the kitchen cabinet where it was believed out of reach of the children. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the child became ill and went into convulsions. A physician was called and after examining the little one, asked if there was any medicine about the house it could have taken. After a moment the mother thought of the dyspepsia tablets in the kitchen cabinet and went to look for them. She found them on a shelf lower than where they were usually kept, and there seemed to be less of them than before, though Mrs. Chappel did not know exactly how many the box contained. The baby had evidently climbed on a chair and cured the medicine. The baby was immediately taken to the Adrian hospital where a stomach pump was used and the stomach thoroughly washed out, but the strychnine had accomplished its deadly work and the little one died at 4 a. m. yesterday.

Round Up Three Alleged Bootleggers in Vicinity of N. Y. C. Yards Last Night

This bootlegging game "within the shadow of the Court House" is getting to be a highly precarious method of earning a living or turning a few "honest" dollars on the side. The truth of the above advertisement was brought forcibly to the attention of three residents of the East End last evening and as a result of such action three more representatives of the Republican majority in Clearfield county are behind the bars at Fort Lowell. The increase in the jail population was caused by a raid engineered by State Trooper Kirk and Sheriff Tom Lowell, and participated in by Chief of Police McMullen and officer Woolgast. Trooper Kirk has been operating in this section in plain clothes for some time and as a result of his operations many a hitherto successful bootlegger and moonshiner has at last been forced to "bite the dust." The Fourth Ward has continued to take first place in "wet circles" hereabouts regardless of the recent inroads of the law against its population and Trooper Kirk succeeded in tracking the source of some of the generally complained of wetness to a shanty along the river bank, back of the New York Central round house. When he had everything ready Kirk organized his "Spong Squad" as above enumerated and swooped down on the place prepared to "dry" it up. When they visited the shanty they found George Penn (no kin of old Billy, Pennsylvania's original and most successful real estate dealer) in charge. Flashing a search warrant in George's face Trooper Kirk proceeded to institute a careful search of the premises, while the other officers stood guard. He found nothing contraband on the place. READY FOR

The State Senate passed the Snyder "Dry" bill known as the administration bill by a vote of 30 to 15, a majority of four above the constitutional requirement. The bill as passed contained enforcement provisions of the Volstead Act and the officers of the law concurrently with the officers. Changes in the "dry" law were made by the Senate. These changes were dry advance the teeth and modifications and were made so certain to be passed program and enacted.

Among those bill were:

Senator Brown, C. Culbertson, D. Dade, M. Phipps, Quigley, Sprengle, St. Weaver and W. Harrisburg. Senate today took action dry bill at 10 o'clock. In formal agreement had in connection. Senator Snyder speaking for the power with national would make it possible revisions of the bill. He characterized and present legislation as a normal and ghastly. He stated that the bill had been cheated and was a needless state. He said that the bill was a known wet district. He were in the state. He said that the bill was a known wet district. He were in the state. He said that the bill was a known wet district. He were in the state.

DEATH OF FRENCH

Lawrence D. 13 years old, died at the family home Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. His death was due to a tick of spinal meningitis. The funeral will be held from the Clearfield Catholic church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

KEIRN-TIEDGEN

A very pretty wedding was celebrated last night at 8 o'clock in the Lutheran parsonage when Miss Keirn and Miss Alice Tiedgen were joined in holy matrimony. The bride was a beautiful young woman and the groom was a well-known man and wife by the name of F. Roy Hauser. The beautiful ceremony was used. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dixon. Mrs. Dixon being a sister of the bride. The bridegroom is employed at the Tanning Co. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Henry Keirn. They will make their home in Clearfield.

BAYMAKERS ENJOY LIFE

Baymakers Association, composed of Clearfield Lodge #1, Red Bank Lodge #2, and West Side Lodge #3, were regularly entertained at the West Side restaurant last evening following the business session of the lodge. During said business session the two "Boss Drivers" were elected for the term ending May 1st, in the barnyard and promptly taking them in tow conducted them by easy stages past the different sections until they finally arrived at their "halet."

There were about fifty present and the "good of the order" consisted of Fred B. Leavy, one of the baymakers (who generally make his hay about this time of year) presided over the assembly to dine with him at Compton on Charley Street, a "fund foundry" across the street from the Mechanics Hall. No hay had to be asked twice and soon Baymakers of Barreles Baymakers had all their hay down to a particularly fine crop of hay, and Compton Leavy, the only "fund" baymaker in the county, did ample justice.

He had acted as Toastmaster and made the "best of reason and flow of soul" finale the equal of Bro. Shugart's fine layout. Everybody had his say and everybody enjoyed the occasion to the limit.

The Red Bank always enjoy life, but the Baymakers go there one better. They go and get under a straw field where you can "hay" both winter and summer.

THEY DO SHED THEM

Salvager, Pa., March 13, 1923.—To the Editor of the Clearfield Progress. I saw in the Clearfield Progress the question asked if male deer lose their horns or not. They do because in April two years ago on the 26th day, 1921, Chas. E. Schepars and my boy went down to their uncle G. W. Reese, and there morning there were three deer in the field and came close enough to the house for them to see a nice buck with four points on each antler and as they looked they saw one side drop off and the buck went away with one horn. Mr. Reese's little boy went over and picked it up and has it at his home. But the eye question some one else can answer.

FOOD SALE DE LUXE

Girl Scouts, like every other organization, need some revenue but it is particularly necessary in this case to make the earnings of this outing. The means must be in line with scout activity and meet a real demand in the town. Since all must eat to live and since cook stove efficiency is a scout goal, the Staff have decided to inaugurate a series of Saturday afternoon food sales. Beginning with March 24 at two o'clock one may call at the scout home on Locust street and stock the family pantry with scout made provisions. Further announcements will be made of this departure.

The Girl Scout staff met at the meeting. Among other important matters settled was the adopting of a suggestion made by Corry Commanly Service. All Scouts wishing it will presently receive a book in which will be kept a record by hours of all home service for which honors will be received—so much for fifty, one hour of or more hours work. It is expected that this will be of interest to the mothers. Many scouts are most helpful at home but this will be concrete and recorded proof of this so that "he who runs" may know that scouts are something more than a social group.

Half-Inch Watch.

What is claimed to be the smallest precision watch in the world, striking the hour, has just been completed by a Swiss firm. It is enclosed in a platinum case measuring only 14 millimeters, or slightly more than half an inch, and is the result of years of labor by the most skillful watchmakers in Europe. The case is encrusted with diamonds.

Hard to Choose.

We have to choose between blind chance and guidance, and I cannot imagine that anybody brought up directly to deal with that choice can hesitate which of the alternatives he will accept. We must undoubtedly choose for guidance.—Earl of Balfour.

Truly a Sad Situation.

The Chicago grocery assembly was discussing the sudden death of a neighbor who had left a rather helpless family. "And the worst of it is," said old Uncle Bill, "that there isn't one of those boys that has the head to sit the old man's shoes."

SEVEN FIREMEN INJURED IN PITTSBURGH FIRE

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 14.—Seven firemen were injured, one seriously in an early morning fire, which destroyed two buildings in Market Street today and caused property loss estimated at two hundred thousand dollars.

The fire started in the four-story building occupied by the Factory Shoe Company, destroying it and Albert Brahm's Produce Goods store.

ARE YOU NERVOUS? RUN-DOWN?

A Young Mother Who was Nervous, Weak and Could Not Sleep, Found Health and Strength in This Prescription. Read What She Says:

Sharon, Pa.—"Before the birth of my first child I became very much run down. I was nervous, weak and could not sleep. I tried several medicines but did not get any help until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it built me right up in health and strength. I felt well right up to the last and had a very healthy child. I also took a few bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' afterward and found it a great help in strengthening me. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied upon as a woman's tonic."

SERVICE for the year 1923

The much used word in the business world today and, beyond a doubt, the most misused.

HE PROFITS MOST WHO SERVES BEST is an international slogan. All material rewards come in return for service—of one kind or another. BUT—

INTELLIGENT service naturally commands the high rewards. One's ability to give truly INTELLIGENT service is not born of chance or genius, but is the result of one thing and one thing only—knowledge.

Thirty years of untiring efforts have produced for us the knowledge—the knowledge of how BEST to serve you. It is not chance or genius—it is the plain unadulterated fact of knowing HOW.

WHAT TO WEAR—HOW TO WEAR IT and WHEN TO WEAR IT—is heartily the watchword of our Store.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The population of the United States has passed the 110,000,000 mark, according to figures compiled by the National Bureau of Economic Research. The total population for January 1 is 110,100,000 a gain of approximately four and one-half millions since the last Government census.

Estimates for the half years since the census have been made by Willford I. King as a part of the bureau's continuing investigation into the amount and distribution of income in the United States. These figures show that since January 1, 1921, the rate of increase in population has been accelerated noticeably, the present rate approaching that of pre-war years.

This more rapid gain in population, according to Dr. King, has been decidedly reinforced by a reduction in the death rate. At the present rate of growth, the population at the 1930 census will reach 120,000,000.

Live stock in the United States, including horses, and other work animals, is worth $3,323,000,000, according to an appraisal just concluded by experts of the Department of Agriculture.

The appraisal includes cattle, hogs and sheep. It represents an increase of 11 per cent over the value of stock a year ago, when the official appraisal stood at $2,973,000,000. But compared with the average for the years 1917-21, the present appraisal shows a falling off of $1,616,000,000 or 32 per cent. During this five-year period, however, prices of live stock fluctuated between the highest point in history and the low quotations recorded as a result of the depression of 1921. Iowa, with stock valued at $220,000,000, leads all other States, the official returns show. Stock in Illinois

Spring Millinery Modes

Throughout this week occurs our Spring Millinery Showings, at which the most complete collection of beautiful hats we have ever presented will be displayed. Here are the best interpretations of the Sports Mode, the Tailored Mode, the Dress Mode, as famous French designers have conceived it, and as skilful American designers have adapted it. The Store cordially invites you to make an early visit.

Colors include beguiling green hues, topaz, the new mountain haze shades, crinkled berry tones, and a large group of oriental color combinations that so prominently prevail. Black, too, is ultra smart.

Styles number among them chic cloches and pots of haircloth, faillie and taffeta uniquely smart with ribbon platings and handcraft, trim little felts, cressy caps lines and beautiful flower and feather trimmed modes.

New York is foremost among the Eastern States, with stock worth $129,000,000. In all other States, the total value of stock is less than $100,000,000.

There will be another generation of wars, in which the United States will be repeatedly involved.

These are prophecies of Anton J. Johnson, the aged peasant poet, whose prophetic warning that "Belgium would become a nail in Germany's coffin" and whose urging against the great war which he foresaw caused so much talk in court circles between 1907 and 1914, but were ignored.

Dr. Dryander, the former Kaiser's chief chaplain, became greatly interested in the peasant prophet and introduced him at that time to more than a dozen university professors, writers and specialists in occult sciences.

Johanson insisted that "The Voice" instructed him to warn ruling governments, especially the Kaiser, of impending danger and against going to war.

Details of his visions, as related at that time, were amazingly fulfilled, and that fact is creating intense interest in his latest prophecies.

He predicts that America is to be involved in five big wars within the next thirty years. Some of these will be civil wars and one will be a complication with Canada.

He says that about 1925 war will break out between England and India, beginning with a rising in Northern India. The English will be driven to the sea and 25,000,000 persons will perish in that war. Decisive battles will be fought at Calcutta and Delhi.

Egypt and other African colonies will follow the example of India in a series of uprisings.

In 1930 France and Spain will be involved in a war.

Germany will be torn with internal dissensions and conflicting revolutionary currents until 1953 before the country settles down and becomes rational again.

Johanson forecasts a French-Russian alliance, and says that in the summer of 1953 France will invade Norway and Russia will invade Sweden, ending in the capitulation of the Scandinavian States. The under-lying cause of all this is the war between the good and the evil forces of the world.

Mrs. L. J. Stewart and two children, of the field, were guests of Mrs. Carr's Dyer yesterday.

Mrs. H. P. Fullerton living on Blooming avenue, is confined to her home by a severe and annoying attack of yellow jaundice.

The contractors having charge of building the state highway between Curwensville and Grampian are moving their camps from Stronach to the Edgar field above the brick yard. The work of grading has been going along most of the winter months and is now completed to a point near Bridgeport where a large cut has to be excavated. While he is going on this side and start a line of grading into Bridgeport, working on down and on the side of the creek. This long stretch of highway ought to be completed within the next six months at the earliest, making an easily traveled roadway from Clearfield to DuBois.

Wintry climatic conditions do not seem to trouble Old Doc Stark from trapping his old timber, for in passing word Sunday morning on an important call he stopped long enough at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rutz, Anderson street, to leave with them a fine and healthy young daughter.

Dr. Foughell, a physician connected with the Pennsylvania railroad came over from Tyrone yesterday to examine several patients who are under his immediate jurisdiction.

Invitations have been issued for a social and a set dance to be held in the Moose hall on Friday evening. Special orchestra and music to correspond has been secured for the occasion.

Frank Murdy, of Ococks, connected with the town food department at the gate, was a Curwensville business visitor yesterday.

The body of the 14-year-old son of Henry Marsh II was brought to Curwensville this forenoon on the Pennsylvania train and taken to the DuBois undertaking rooms. A short funeral service was held in that room in the afternoon, whence the body was taken to Oak Hill cemetery and interred. The lad died at the home of his parents in the town of Dean, Pa., on Monday. He was a grandson of C. H. Marshall of Pike township.

According to common report yesterday Mr. Obe Bloom has disposed of his residence on South George street and has purchased the property of Mrs. Apper Bloom, corner of Thompson and George streets.

John Balone left for Pittsburgh today to assist in bringing some dozen new automobiles to Curwensville for the Bartelli & Dotts garage on Filbert street.

Mrs. John I. Bloom, living in Pike township, a short distance from Curwensville, was notified last Sunday of the death of her brother, Martin Frantz, which occurred at his home in Brookwayville on Saturday night. The old gentleman had retired in apparently good health, but a few hours afterwards was found dead. His age was near 66 years, and he was born and raised at Bridgeport, in Pike township. The funeral and interment were held at Brookwayville yesterday, the physical condition of Mrs. Bloom not permitting her to be in attendance. Only two of the Frantz family, which was quite a large one, are living, Mrs. Bloom and William Frantz.

Thursday those sacrifice sales start a nearly all of the stores in this burg Tuesday and today windows were decorated with samples of goods of every description and the selling prices recorded thereon simply made your eyes water and determine to get up early Thursday morning and be one of the first to get in on the ground floor. It is a cinch that people are going to take advantage of day dollar sales and enrich themselves to an extent as never before. Clearfield's one dollar day sale will have nothing on us when the smoke of Thursday and Friday clears away.

Here is one on your humble servant. Yesterday afternoon we happened to be standing in the shadow of a doorway. Two men were a few feet below. One was reading The Progress, and said to his companion, "I wonder how in the world that little runt of a correspondent from this town racks up a column of news every day in this man's town. I never see him going about much, but if you will read the Curwensville letter in The Progress you will learn that the cuss must have an ungodly instinct for such work, for he tells anything and everything from a horse casting a shoe to a premeditated murder." Thanks, gents, we are on the track of a piece of news right now that you are trying to hide, and when we secure the dope it will be one on you.

Mrs. Jerry McNaull and Mrs. John McNaull residents of the South Side, spent several hours among the Clearfield stores yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirk came down from Lumber City yesterday and did some shopping necessary for their home comfort. Mr. Kirk is a son-in-law and also guardian of David Hile.

The Workman's Cash Grocery Company's store is arranging to remove its stock to the old Central Hotel bar room. The room is being remodeled and fixed up for occupancy by April 1st.

first floor but discovering a low loft or cubby hole near the roof Kirk wormed his way through a narrow trap door and succeeded in digging up four five gallon jugs and four or five quart bottles of moonshine of about as rank a quality as has been confiscated hereabouts in many a day.

Penn and his bum liquor was taken to jail and then the party of officers repaired to the home of Arthur Kirk (no kin to the Trooper) at the corner of 14th and Dorsey streets, where Kirk arrested Kirk and another colored gentleman named Emmet Larsen, who the Trooper alleges were bootlegging agents for Penn and from whom he had purchased some of Penn's liquor several times. The Trooper says that while Penn did not manufacture his moonshine he acted as a sort of wholesaler, securing a supply and then employing Kirk and Larsen to help him bootleg it for a percentage of the proceeds.

Seemed to Deserve Recognition.
In 1698 the duke of Norfolk, as Earl Marshall, received a petition from Thomas Greenhill, asking that, "in consideration of your petitioner being the seventh son and fifty-ninth child of one father and mother, your grace would be pleased to signify it by some particular motto of augmentation to his coat-of-arms, to transmit to posterity so uncommon a thing."

Apt Description.
The children of the neighborhood like to congregate at Earther's home because her mother and father are interested in children's affairs and make it exceedingly pleasant for them. One day on her return from their first remarked: "I like to play there 'cause it isn't a mother and father house—it's a little girl's house."

KESSEY-STOKER

Miss Myrna Kessy, of Freeport, Pa., became the bride of Mr. John Stoker, of Morrisdale, on Thursday, March 1st, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas, Morrisdale. Rev. J. D. W. Deavor, pastor of the Morrisdale Methodist Episcopal church, performed the pretty ceremony, while Miss Beatrice Michaels and Mr. Edward Stoker attended as bridesmaid and groomsmen.

Immediately following the ceremonies Mr. Stoker and bride departed on a honeymoon trip to Pittsburgh and upon their return took up house-keeping at Morrisdale.

The bride has been a most capable and efficient nurse at the Cottage State hospital since last June, when she was graduated in nurse training at that institution. She is blessed with many winsome ways. Mr. Stoker is engaged as electrical engineer for the Morrisdale Coal Company and a young man held in highest regard. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stoker, of Morrisdale.

Their numerous friends join in extending heartiest felicitations.

THE THREE MALEFACTORS

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim
Artist: NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Vendetta begins between MICHAEL SATEY, noted criminal, and SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Satey's beautiful housemaid, JANET, moves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead the officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Satey's wife and accomplice in many exploits. Michael Satey, arrested by taking desperate chances, is an able assistant, but because he greatly admires the many good qualities he recognizes in her, Sir Norman desires to marry her.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Janet Tells the Story

He said good night pleasantly and left me. I went back to my room, undressed, and dozed a complete out of Mr. Bloor's evening clothes, and theater hat, which I had taken from him. At the time when I knew that the night watchman's back was turned, I slipped out, descended a few of the stairs which were exactly opposite my door, ascended them again, walked along the corridor, entered Mr. Bloor's room, waited there a moment or two, came out again, and entered the sitting-room of our suite. In ten minutes I was back in my bedroom with the diamonds. In an hour's time Mr. Bloor's clothes were safely in his room and the diamonds securely disposed of.

Greyes Tells His Side

It was really, in the first place, not owing to any request from my friend Rimmington that I became interested in the Brighton robbery and murder case. Philip Harris, who was a director of the hotel company, wrote me a personal letter, asking me to represent the interests of the hotel in any way I thought fit, and it was on the strength of this appeal that I traveled down to Brighton and took up my temporary residence at the Magnificent Hotel. Within a few minutes of my arrival the manager himself waited upon me. Almonds before we had shaken hands, he had commenced to unburden himself. "There is just one small matter Sir Norman," he said, "which worries me a little. Mr. Sidney Bloor is a fine fellow, but he is staying in lodgings on the front, but he is watched night and day." "There seems to be a moderately cent case against him," I remarked. "In many respects it would appear convincing," the manager assented. "His antecedents are bad, his relations to a woman nearly 30 years his senior are difficult to explain on any basis except that of self-interest. He escorted her round to the Royal Hotel to play bridge, cut out during the evening, came back to his hotel, and was seen by the five man, who acts as night-watchman, to enter Mrs. Trumperton-Smith's suite. Mrs. Trumperton-Smith and he returned together early in the morning, between one and two, and he escorted her to her suite. His story is that he stayed there for about five minutes and had a whisky and soda in the sitting-room, parted with her on friendly terms and subsequently went to his room." "And what is your comment upon his story?" I asked. "Just this," was the earnest reply: "The young man did return to the hotel alone, but whereas the night-watchman swears that he saw him enter Mrs. Trumperton-Smith's suite at half-past ten, the hall-porter at half-past two of the pages and a reception-clerk are equally positive that it was exactly midnight when he came in and went upstairs." "This divergence of evidence," I observed, "is interesting, but I scarcely see what it leads to. Perhaps I had better talk to Mr. John son for a little time." The chief constable himself paid me the honor of a visit, accompanied by Johnson, who was an exceedingly punctilious and capable officer. "You say that none of the jewelry has been recovered?" I asked. "None of the jewelry in question, I fear," Johnson admitted. "Mr. Bloor has two very handsome pins in his possession, but he was clever enough to admit at once that these were given him by the deceased." "You haven't been able to collect any evidence as to his having spoken to anyone outside, on his way back to the Royal?" "Not at present. I am sorry to say, sir."

"What about this discrepancy in the alleged time of his visit?" "That is another of the things we are trying to straighten out. Anyway, the night watchman, who is a very respectable fellow, is prepared to swear that he saw Sidney Bloor re-enter the suite, even though his idea of the time seems to be out. As suming that the theft took place there, though, the motive for the murder becomes obscure." "And Mr. Bloor's own story?" "He came a terrible cropper, sir," Johnson declared, a little triumphantly. "He at first stated that he only left the bridge-table when he cut out, to get some fresh air—that he leaned over the wall of the promenade, looking at the sea, the whole of the time. Afterward he admitted that he had visited the hotel and had seen a young woman, who he thought was the same as the woman who had dropped his cigarette." "The inquiry," I remarked, "has been adjourned." "Till Thursday week, Sir Norman," the chief constable told me. The evidence given at the inquiry is at your disposal at any time." "I have already studied it," I said. "I should like, if possible, to have a few words with the night porter and with the deceased's maid." The former, whose name was John O'Hara, proved to be a very respectable, stolid and obstinate man. Nothing could shake his conviction that he had seen Sidney Bloor enter Mrs. Trumperton-Smith's suite at about half-past ten, and emerge from it five minutes later. He admitted that the corridor was dimly lighted, but he would not hear a word said against his watch. I dismissed him with the conviction that, so far as he knew it, he was speaking the truth. Then I went for the maid. There was a brief delay, followed by the sound of soft footsteps outside and the opening and shutting of a door. I glanced up from the copy of O'Hara's evidence which I had been studying, and I received, I think, the greatest shock of my life. With her back pressed to the closed door, her fingers clinging to the handle, stood the woman whom I had known as Janet Smith!

NEITHER of us spoke for several moments. Her lips were parted, but she gave vent to any exclamation, it was inaudible. Her eyes were fixed upon my face in a stare of amazement. Janet came slowly over toward me. "I did not know that you were here," she said. "Nor that you had re-entered domestic service," I replied. She flinched a little, but she answered me quite quietly. "Poverty is a hard mistress. When you met me in Bond Street some months ago, and I lunched with you, I was engaged at a dressmaker's establishment. Then my husband sent me to go to Paris. You know very well what happened to us there. I returned to London worse off than when I had left it. I lost my situation. Then I became a man-iculist. I stood that for about three weeks. I had nine shillings in my purse when I saw Mrs. Trumperton-Smith at the Rimmington. I answered it and came back."

"You are better off now?" I ventured. "Haven't you better warn me that anything I say may be used as evidence against me?" she asked mockingly.

"I agree. Yet I shall ask you one question, and one only."

"I do not promise to answer it."

"But you will answer it," I insisted, watching her steadily. "And you will tell me the truth. Had you anything to do with Mrs. Trumperton-Smith's death?"

"I had not," she replied unflinchingly. "You were not even an accomplice."

"One question you promised to ask, and one I to answer," she said. "I have finished."

"I was thoughtful for a moment. I was thinking of the doctor's evidence at the inquest. The coroner had asked him whether the injuries on the throat of the deceased could have been inflicted by a woman. The reply was there on the depositions before me: 'I should think it very unlikely.'"

"Very well," I said. "I will make my second question. Instead I will make an appeal to you. I am here to try and discover the person who robbed and murdered your late mistress. Can you help me?"

"If I could, why should I?" she demanded. "We are in opposite camps."

"There will certainly be a reward for the recovery of the jewels."

"I should very much like to earn it," she admitted. "I do not know who stole them."

"Have you any idea," I asked her, "why Mrs. Trumperton-Smith left the hotel for her bridge-party that night without any jewelry at all?"

"She considered for a moment," Mr. Bloor suggested that she should take off her diamonds and leave them at home," she answered. "And did she?"

"Yes." "You know that Mr. Bloor came back to the suite?"

"I have been told so." "And you know that the evidence is very conflicting as to what time he paid his visit?"

"Yes, I know that. Why shouldn't he have paid two?"

"It is an idea," I admitted. "Do you think that Sidney Bloor is the man we want?"

"Why should you imagine that I would help you if I could?" she asked coldly.

"From the little I have heard of Mr. Sidney Bloor, I should have looked upon him as a discompoop," I continued.

The Power of Passion.

It is not ideas which move and transform the world, but passion; and a passion, even if it be absurd, is a thousand times more powerful than a wise idea. From Ferrero's "Ancient Rome and Modern America."

Christmas Celebration.

The custom of burning the Yule log on Christmas eve is not generally observed in England. The custom is still followed in some of the rural sections. It is more prevalent in the Scandinavian countries.

What makes the "Grain" in Wood? A tree grows outdoors and its wood is a collection of millions of living "cells." Each year new cells form around the tree, hardening into a cylinder, and if cut we see straight lines, these lines form the "grain."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Those present were: Misses Hunsdel, Mrs. Jess Clearth, Misses Jean Seel, Jeanette, Bernice, and Amy Livingstone, Esther Wisor, Ethel Knapp, Alta Lansberry, Ruth Pike, Katherine Pearce, Rose Palmer, Edna Gelliver, Mrs. A. Dugan, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Palmer.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of sweet camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the most potent plaster, it does the work without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

Our Ideal Paige—Your Ideal Car

If your ideal car is one of dignified beauty, the newly refined lines of the Paige will charm you. If your ideal of beauty means also richness of detail and substantial construction, the new Paige bodies will satisfy you.

For Paige Ideal bodies are now doubly braced, extra stout. Double strips of patent leather keep metal from touching metal or wood. This idea from Europe insures a forever silent body.

The richness of the new Paige bodies is sensed by hand and eye. Not a piece of imitation leather in the open cars. Superbly loomed velours in the enclosed types. All instruments beneath a single glass panel in a walnut dash. Walnut steering wheel—adjustable to driver's convenience.

Undoubtedly your ideal car is a Paige in performance. Like its predecessor, this Paige 6-70 will prove America's unchallenged champion in speed, hill-climbing and acceleration. Likewise our Ideal Paige goes beyond even your ideals in easy handling.

The new clutch, with six springs instead of one and a light-weight driven member, gives smooth, easy engagement. The new transmission gives finger-touch gear shifting with a bare 3-inch movement. And it is almost as quiet in first and second speeds as in high.

A new degree of endurance—of long life at reduced upkeep—has been given the Ideal Paige by scores of chassis improvements. The finest practicable workmanship by precision tools and gauges, is standard throughout. A new automatic take-up for the chain driven auxiliary shafts does away with need for adjustment.

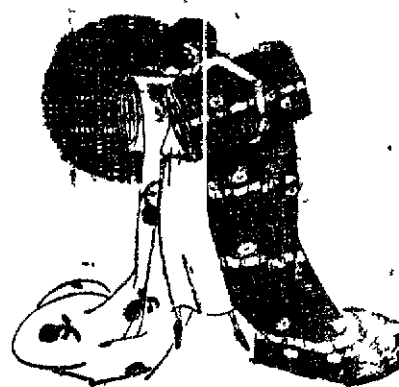

Since 1909 the same officers, directors and engineers have been working together on the development of the Ideal Paige. Each year has brought it closer. Now it is achieved. And the success of the Paige-built Jewett has so increased the volume and reduced the overhead of the great Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company that this Ideal Paige is still a car of reasonable price.

Paige now definitely takes its place as one of America's finest cars. A Six of course—because the Six is the ideal type motor for balanced smoothness, flexibility, long life and care-free simplicity. This Ideal Paige is here—ready to charm you—to satisfy you with its comfort—and thrill you with its performance. Please inspect it at our Display Rooms.

Standard equipment of all Paige Models includes: 6 cord tires, tubes, rims. Spares mounted one each side with lock and tire cover. Motometer. Double bar spring bumpers front and rear. Luggage carrier. Combination tail and stop light. Automatic windshield wiper. Aluminum kick plates. Gasoline gauge on dash. Eight day Waltham clock. Electric cigar lighter. Green glass sunshade. Rear view mirror. Spubbers front and rear. Power tire pump.

The Economy of Home Sewing

The season of dressmaking has come. House Dresses and Afternoon Frocks, Middies and Blouses for the children—no end of garments must be made for Spring and Summer. There are busy and joyful days to look forward to. There is joy in the economy of sewing at home in the ease of using the modern HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS, in the beauty of the new Spring fabrics.

Prepare now for your Springtime home dressmaking by an early visit to our piece-goods and pattern departments.

Ouch! My Back! Rub Lumbago Pain Away

Rub Backache away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

Have You Seen The POLLYANNA NOVELTIES

These are cute little things that you can use about the house every day. They are the ordinary things dressed up to make them real novelties. There are coat hangers, waist hangers, bath novelties, and a host of other things that you use about the house, but have used the old style articles.

Come in and see these—or stop as you pass the window. There will be something there that you will like to have.

ACCURACY

Absolute accuracy attends the filling of every prescription that is filled here. The system of checking, then checking all over again, assures you of an accuracy that you want when the medicine is wanted for some dear one who may be sick.

Senator Snyder, speaking for the Senate, was necessary to give power with national would make it possible revisions of the agreement.

He characterized the present legislative term as a calm and ghastly. He stated that the people had been cheated and the commonwealth was a confession state. He alluded to the repression of the known wet districts, and they were in the majority if they were not of the entire state and districts. He declared that the districts should not be of the people of the state.

DAYMAKERS ENJOY LIFE

Daymakers Association, composed of Clearfield Lodge No. 1, Red Bank Lodge No. 2, and West Side restaurant last night following the business session of the lodge. During said business session the two "Boss Drivers" were elected to the "Boss Drivers" position in the barnyard and promptly they were in tow conducted by easy stages past the different scenes until they finally arrived at their "halet."

There were about fifty present and the "good of the order" consisted of Fred B. Leavy, one of the daymakers (who generally make his hay about this time of year) presided over the assembly to dine with at Compton on Charley Street, a "fund foundry" across the street from the Mechanics Hall. No had to be asked twice and soon the daymakers of Burdick Shugarts had all day's down to a particularly fine spread to which the "horny headed" and "jelly" and Compton Leavy, the only "workman" daymaker in cup shell's, did ample justice.

FOOD SALE DE LUXE

Girl Scouts, like every other organization, needs some revenue but it is particularly necessary in this case to make the earnings of this conform to the spirit and rules of scouting. The means must be in line with scout activity and meet a real demand in the town. Since all must eat to live and since cook stove efficiency is a scout goal, the Staff have decided to inaugurate a series of Saturday afternoon food sales. Beginning with March 24 at two o'clock one may call at the scout home on Locust street and stock the family pantry with scout made provisions. Further announcements will be made of this departure.

The Girl Scout staff met at the meeting. Among other important matters settled was the adopting of a suggestion made by Corry Compton. All Scouts wishing it will presently receive a book in which will be kept a record by hours of all home service for which honors will be received—so much for fifty, one hour of or more hours work. It is expected that this will be of interest to the mothers. Many scouts are most helpful at home but this

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 14.—Seven firemen were injured, one seriously in an early morning fire, which destroyed two buildings in Market Street today and caused property loss estimated at two hundred thousand dollars.

The fire started in the four-story building occupied by the Factory Shoe Company, destroying it and Albert Brahm's Produce Goods store.

Half-Inch Watch.

What is claimed to be the smallest precision watch in the world, striking the hour, has just been completed by a Swiss firm. It is enclosed in a platinum case measuring only 14 millimeters, or slightly more than half an inch, and is the result of years of labor by the most skillful watchmakers in Europe. The case is encrusted with diamonds.

Hard to Choose.

We have to choose between blind chance and guidance, and I cannot imagine that anybody brought up directly to deal with that choice can hesitate which of the alternatives he will accept. We must undoubtedly choose for guidance.—Earl of Balfour.

SERVICE for the year 1923

The much used word in the business world today and, beyond a doubt, the most misused.

HE PROFITS MOST WHO SERVES BEST is an international slogan. All material rewards come in return for service—of one kind or another. BUT—

INTELLIGENT service naturally commands the high rewards. One's ability to give truly INTELLIGENT service is not born of chance or genius, but is the result of one thing and one thing only—knowledge.

Thirty years of untiring efforts have produced for us the knowledge—the knowledge of how BEST to serve you. It is not chance or genius—it is the plain unadulterated fact of knowing HOW.

WHAT TO WEAR—HOW TO WEAR IT and WHEN TO WEAR IT—is heartily the watchword of our Store.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The population of the United States has passed the 110,000,000 mark, according to figures compiled by the National Bureau of Economic Research. The total population for January 1 is 110,100,000 a gain of approximately four and one-half millions since the last Government census.

Estimates for the half years since the census have been made by Willford I. King as a part of the bureau's continuing investigation into the amount and distribution of income in the United States. These figures show that since January 1, 1921, the rate of increase in population has been accelerated noticeably, the present rate approaching that of pre-war years.

This more rapid gain in population, according to Dr. King, has been decidedly reinforced by a reduction in the death rate. At the present rate of growth, the population at the 1930 census will reach 120,000,000.

Live stock in the United States, including horses, and other work animals, is worth $3,323,000,000, according to an appraisal just concluded by experts of the Department of Agriculture.

The appraisal includes cattle, hogs and sheep. It represents an increase of 11 per cent over the value of stock a year ago, when the official appraisal stood at $2,973,000,000. But compared with the average for the years 1917-21, the present appraisal shows a falling off of $1,616,000,000 or 32 per cent. During this five-year period, however, prices of live stock fluctuated between the highest point in history and the low quotations recorded as a result of the depression of 1921. Iowa, with stock valued at $220,000,000, leads all other States, the official returns show. Stock in Illinois

There will be another generation of wars, in which the United States will be repeatedly involved.

These are prophecies of Anton J. Johnson, the aged peasant poet, whose prophetic warning that "Belgium would become a nail in Germany's coffin" and whose urging against the great war which he foresaw caused so much talk in court circles between 1907 and 1914, but were ignored.

Dr. Dryander, the former Kaiser's chief chaplain, became greatly interested in the peasant prophet and introduced him at that time to more than a dozen university professors, writers and specialists in occult sciences.

Johnson insisted that "The Voice" instructed him to warn ruling sovereigns, especially the Kaiser, of impending danger and against going to war.

Details of his visions, as related at that time, were amazingly fulfilled, and that fact is creating intense interest in his latest prophecies.

He predicts that America is to be involved in five big wars within the next thirty years. Some of these will be civil wars and one will be a complication with Canada.

He says that about 1925 war will break out between England and India, beginning with a rising in Northern India. The English will be driven into the sea and 25,000,000 persons will perish in that war. Decisive battles will be fought at Calcutta and Delhi.

Egypt and other African colonies will follow the example of India in a series of uprisings.

In 1930 France and Spain will be involved in a war.

Germany will be torn with internal dissensions and conflicting revolutionary currents until 1953 before the country settles down and becomes rational again.

Johanson forecasts a French-Russian alliance, and says that in the summer of 1953 France will invade Norway and Russia will invade Sweden, ending in the capitulation of the Scandinavian States, especially the Kaiser, of impending danger and against going to war.

The wets and the near-wets in the State Senate at Harrisburg were able to force Governor Pinchot and his dry forces to accept some minor amendments to the administration's dry enforcement bill, which friends of law enforcement throughout the state had hoped would be enacted into law as it was first written and presented.

The most important amendment agreed to by the Governor was the elimination of this paragraph of the search and seizure clause relating to private dwellings:

Provided, that no search warrant shall issue to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless intoxicating liquor is unlawfully manufactured, sold or furnished therein, or unless any mash, still or other property, designed for the unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquors, is therein kept, or unless it, or some part of it, is used as a store, shop, saloon, restaurant, hotel, boarding house, warehouse, public garage or other place of business, or unless such private dwelling is a place of public resort.

This search and seizure clause from the Volstead Act has been inserted in place of the above provision:

Provided, that no search warrant shall issue to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless it is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, or unless it is in part used for some business purpose, such as a store, shop, saloon, restaurant, hotel, boarding house, warehouse or other place of business or public garage.

Another amendment was inserted to overcome objections of farmers and townfolks that they were denied the right to use cider and wine for home consumption. This relief is given by amending Section 3, which in its original form prohibited the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. This is added:

And provided further, that it shall not be unlawful to manufacture non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in the private dwelling.

To overcome another class of objectors, Section 11, dealing with the confiscation of vehicles used in the transportation of liquor, has been amended by adding the following:

In case it appears at said hearing that the owner of any such vehicle, team, conveyance or craft has not been found within the jurisdiction of the court, the sheriff shall give ten days' notice of said sale by registered letter to the person, if any, whose name appears thereon as the manufacturer thereof, together with the manufacturer's number; if any, appearing thereon.

The bill will be up for final passage in the Senate at 10:30 tomorrow morning and the friends of the measure say there is no question as to its final passage as twenty-eight Senators, including Senator Wm. I. Betts, have agreed to vote for the amended bill, which is two more than votes enough to pass it.

The amendments are also said to satisfy the "middle of the roaders" in the House and will insure its getting through the House and to the Governor as it now stands.

World's Finest China
The finest china in the world, a number of contrasting colors, is at the United States Military Academy at West Point. It has been pronounced the best-toned by musicians and bell-makers.

Character and Money
Character is money; and according to the man who spends the money, money is his character. As money is the most evident power in the world's uses, so the man that makes money is often all that the world knows of a man. —Gulver-Lytton.

Horse-Wranglers
A horse-wrangler is a leader in charge of a string of ponies at western stock shows. The origin of the phrase has been suggested to be the tension of the verb "to wrangle" in the sense of wrangling or arguing with refractory horses in the bunch. In England, he is called a "gaffer" —Literary Digest.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. L. J. Stewart and two children, of the field, were guests of Miss Carr's Dyer yesterday.

Mrs. H. P. Fullerton living on Blooming avenue, is confined to her home by a severe and annoying attack of yellow jaundice.

The contractors having charge of building the state highway between Curwensville and Grampian are moving their camps from Stronach to the Edgar field above the brick yard. The work of grading has been going along most of the winter months and is now completed to a point near Bridgeport where a large cut has to be excavated. While he is going on this side and start a line of grading into Bridgeport, working on down and on the side of the creek. This long stretch of highway ought to be completed within the next six months at the earliest, making an easily traveled roadway from Clearfield to DuBois.

Wintry climatic conditions do not seem to trouble Old Doc Stark from trapping his old timber, for in passing we heard Sunday morning on an important call he stopped long enough at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rutz, Anderson street, to leave with them a fine and healthy young daughter.

Dr. Foughell, a physician connected with the Pennsylvania railroad came over from Tyrone yesterday to examine several patients who are under his immediate jurisdiction.

Invitations have been issued for a social and a set dance to be held in the Moose hall on Friday evening. Special orchestra and music to correspond has been secured for the occasion.

Frank Murdy, of Ococks, connected with the town food department at the gate, was a Curwensville business visitor yesterday.

The body of the 14-year-old son of Henry Marsh II was brought to Curwensville this forenoon on the Pennsylvania train and taken to the Dr. J. J. Underhill rooms. A short funeral service was held in that room in the afternoon, whence the body was taken to Oak Hill cemetery and interred. The lad died at the home of his parents in the town of Dean, Pa., on Monday. He was a grandson of C. H. Marshall of Pike township.

According to common report yesterday Mr. Obe Bloom has disposed of his residence on South George street and has purchased the property of Mrs. Apper Bloom, corner of Thompson and George streets.

John Balone left for Pittsburgh today to assist in bringing some dozen new automobiles to Curwensville for the Bartelli & Dotts garage on Filbert street.

Mrs. John I. Bloom, living in Pike township, a short distance from Curwensville, was notified last Sunday of the death of her brother, Martin Frantz, which occurred at his home in Brockwayville on Saturday night. The old gentleman had retired in apparently good health, but a few hours afterwards was found dead. His age was near 66 years, and he was born and raised at Bridgeport, in Pike township. The funeral and interment were held at Brockwayville yesterday, the physical condition of Mrs. Bloom not permitting her to be in attendance. Only two of the Frantz family, which was quite a large one, are living, Mrs. Bloom and William Frantz.

Thursday those sacrifice sales start a nearly all of the stores in this burg Tuesday and today windows were decorated with samples of goods of every description and the selling prices recorded thereon simply made your eyes water and determine to get up early Thursday morning and be one of the first to get in on the ground floor. It is a cinch that people are going to take advantage of day dollar sales and enrich themselves to an extent as never before. Clearfield's one dollar day sale will have nothing on us when the smoke of Thursday and Friday clears away.

Here is one on your humble servant. Yesterday afternoon we happened to be standing in the shadow of a doorway. Two men were a few feet below. One was reading The Progress, and said to his companion, "I wonder how in the world that little runt of a correspondent from this town racks up a column of news every day in this man's town. I never see him going about much, but if you will read the Curwensville letter in The Progress you will learn that the cuss must have an ungodly instinct for such work, for he tells anything and everything from a horse casting a shoe to a premeditated murder." Thanks, gents, we are on the track of a piece of news right now that you are trying to hide, and when we secure the dope it will be one on you.

Mrs. Jerry McNaull and Mrs. John McNaull residents of the South Side, spent several hours among the Clearfield stores yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirk came down from Lumber City yesterday and did some shopping necessary for their home comfort. Mr. Kirk is a son-in-law and also guardian of David Hile.

The Workman's Cash Grocery Company's store is arranging to remove its stock to the old Central Hotel bar room. The room is being remodeled and fixed up for occupancy by April 1st.

first floor but discovering a low loft or cubby hole near the roof Kirk wormed his way through a narrow trap door and succeeded in digging up four five gallon jugs and four or five quart bottles of moonshine of about as rank a quality as has been confiscated hereabouts in many a day.

Penn and his bum liquor was taken to jail and then the party of officers repaired to the home of Arthur Kirk (no kin to the Trooper) at the corner of 14th and Dorsey streets, where Kirk arrested Kirk and another colored gentleman named Emmet Larsen, who the Trooper alleges were bootlegging agents for Penn and from whom he had purchased some of Penn's liquor several times. The Trooper says that while Penn did not manufacture his moonshine he acted as a sort of wholesaler, securing a supply and then employing Kirk and Larsen to help him bootleg it for a percentage of the proceeds.

Seemed to Deserve Recognition.
In 1698 the duke of Norfolk, as Earl Marshall, received a petition from Thomas Greenhill, asking that, "in consideration of your petitioner being the seventh son and fifty-ninth child of one father and mother, your grace would be pleased to signify it by some particular motto of augmentation to his coat-of-arms, to transmit to posterity so uncommon a thing."

Apt Description.
The children of the neighborhood like to congregate at Earler's home because her mother and father are interested in children's affairs and make it exceedingly pleasant for them. One day on her return from their first remarked: "I like to play there 'cause it isn't a mother and father house—it's a little girl's house."

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

Our Ideal Paige—Your Ideal Car

If your ideal car is one of dignified beauty, the newly refined lines of the Paige will charm you. If your ideal of beauty means also richness of detail and substantial construction, the new Paige bodies will satisfy you.

For Paige Ideal bodies are now doubly braced, extra stout. Double strips of patent leather keep metal from touching metal or wood. This idea from Europe insures a forever silent body.

The richness of the new Paige bodies is sensed by hand and eye. Not a piece of imitation leather in the open cars. Superbly loomed velours in the enclosed types. All instruments beneath a single glass panel in a walnut dash. Walnut steering wheel—adjustable to driver's convenience.

Undoubtedly your ideal car is a Paige in performance. Like its predecessor, this Paige 6-70 will prove America's unchallenged champion in speed, hill-climbing and acceleration. Likewise our Ideal Paige goes beyond even your ideals in easy handling.

The new clutch, with six springs instead of one and a light-weight driven member, gives smooth, easy engagement. The new transmission gives finger-touch gear shifting with a bare 3-inch movement. And it is almost as quiet in first and second speeds as in high.

A new degree of endurance—of long life at reduced upkeep—has been given the Ideal Paige by scores of chassis improvements. The finest practicable workmanship by precision tools and gauges, is standard throughout. A new automatic take-up for the chain driven auxiliary shafts does away with need for adjustment.

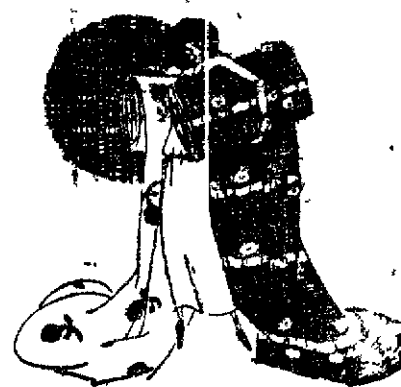

Since 1909 the same officers, directors and engineers have been working together on the development of the Ideal Paige. Each year has brought it closer. Now it is achieved. And the success of the Paige-built Jewett has so increased the volume and reduced the overhead of the great Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company that this Ideal Paige is still a car of reasonable price.

Paige now definitely takes its place as one of America's finest cars. A Six of course—because the Six is the ideal type motor for balanced smoothness, flexibility, long life and care-free simplicity. This Ideal Paige is here—ready to charm you—to satisfy you with its comfort—and thrill you with its performance. Please inspect it at our Display Rooms.

Standard equipment of all Paige Models includes: 6 cord tires, tubes, rims. Spares mounted one each side with lock and tire cover. Motometer. Double bar spring bumpers front and rear. Luggage carrier. Combination tail and stop light. Automatic windshield wiper. Aluminum kick plates. Gasoline gauge on dash. Eight day Waltham clock. Electric cigar lighter. Green glass sunshade. Rear view mirror. Spubbers front and rear. Power tire pump.

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

Have You Seen The POLLYANNA NOVELTIES

These are cute little things that you can use about the house every day. They are the ordinary things dressed up to make them real novelties. There are coat hangers, waist hangers, bath novelties, and a host of other things that you use about the house, but have used the old style articles.

Come in and see these—or stop as you pass the window. There will be something there that you will like to have.

ACCURACY

Absolute accuracy attends the filling of every prescription that is filled here. The system of checking, then checking all over again, assures you of an accuracy that you want when the medicine is wanted for some dear one who may be sick.

Wanted a Mind Picture.

John's mother has a sister living in California whom John has never seen. One day she said: "Mother, tell me all about how Aunt Blanche looks so I can get a view of her in my mind."

Wesley's Great Work.
During 50 years John Wesley rode 250,000 miles and preached 40,000 sermons. "He rideth well whom the grace of God carrieth," said Thomas a Kempis whose book was often in Wesley's saddlebag.
